

DESIGN-A-BIN

British telephone boxes and post boxes are iconic pieces of street furniture. Why not call attention to rubbish bins in a similar fashion?

There are several potential ways in which this project can be run:

- Artists decorate or design bins to create an art trail such as seen with the Gromits in Bristol or King Bladud's Pigs in Bath.
- Each school has a bin to decorate and display, either as part of a planned trail or near their location. This could be expanded into a town-wide competition: which school's bin collects the most rubbish?
- All students design a bin on paper and the winning design from each school is chosen to be made into a real bin.

Putting litter in its place.
